Editorial

Dear Reader,

The SXC Journal is pleased to announce the publication of Volume 2, 2025. We are also proud to share that the SXC Journal is now indexed in NepJol, a reputable and widely recognized global platform for journal indexing.

This volume includes articles from various departments, showcasing a multidisciplinary approach to knowledge accumulation and dissemination to readers around the world.

All articles published in the SXC Journal undergo blind peer review and are openly accessible to all readers. This volume features contributions from Management, Social Sciences, Computer Science, Biology, Economics, and other fields.

To broaden the reach of our published articles, the SXC Journal maintains the published version of each volume on the SXC website under the Research section. Additionally, to ensure wider accessibility, this volume is also available on the NepJol indexing platform.

We are now inviting submissions for Volume 3, 2026. We welcome high-quality articles that uphold rigorous academic standards. Submissions are open throughout the year, with no specific deadline.

We look forward to your submissions and to collaborating with you in advancing academic research.

Thank you very much.

Best regards,

Mani Man Singh Rajbhandari, PhD
